

03:20:58 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Recordings from the whole day will be available after we get them edited next week.

A professional development certificate will be provided to everyone who attends live!

03:20:58 David Lance: I can teach you basketball. But if LeBron is teaching you it's a whole different focus and attention

03:21:00 Vanessa Cristina Costa Tursi: Board games and Card Games are the best.

03:21:08 Susan Cabello: I make my own games for school. I have environmental playing cards / Loteria Biology / High Schoolopoly / Forensic Sciencopoly etc...

03:21:19 Jennifer Fulton: This curriculum site has tons of printable tabletop games for education. Real high quality curriculum I discovered last year. Hope some of you find it helpful!

03:21:21 Jennifer Fulton:

03:21:48 Cynthia Garay: Thanks a lot, Dr. Melton. It was enlightening!

03:22:00 April Soni: hey Scott,

03:22:14 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Zoom tells us

03:22:22 April Soni: I was not asked to enter my code when I joined, will I still get the certificate?

03:22:22 Clifton Roozeboom - PocketLab: Thanks to everyone commenting in the chat! Make sure to switch your chat settings so that everyone can see your comments and can connect!

03:22:24 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Thanks to Dee Shelvey, you can find all the links being mentioned here

03:22:43 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: April, Zoom records your attendance

03:22:58 Imani Malaika-Mehta: Thanks, Dee!

03:23:01 Jessica Janusz: So how would someone achieve playing video games professionally?

03:23:09 Jessica Janusz: Like what is the path for that ?

03:23:15 April Soni: sweet! Thank you!! So fun- taking notes and I have PAGES of resources and ideas!!

03:23:20 Corey Haught: hey its me

03:23:30 Corey Haught: that's neat

03:23:38 Jessica Janusz: Because of course most little boys want to get paid to play video games and I want to know how to encourage support their dreams

03:25:06 Jennifer Fulton: so many of the players are wanting to go into STEM heavy fields. Very inspiring

03:26:22 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Drop your questions in the chat for the q&a section coming up!

03:27:21 Sonam Tshering: Research has shown that excessive screen time can hamper appropriate developmental functions and can even inhibit the development of empathy. Therefore how can we augment e-sport to our benefit?

03:27:29 Sam Nezzar: Can anyone share if they've figured out how to really block or limit YouTube? Google embeds it into everything & these kids can get around blocks & lists & find a way to get on it which limits their ability to use technology for independent learning.

Some streamers prey on kids or strip while streaming, etc. etc.

03:27:34 Jessica Janusz: Are there specific websites/platforms/games to use to esports or just anything like madden, fortnite etc

03:28:26 Jessica Janusz: for*

03:28:28 Mariam Nouri: You can teach so much physics using this game.

03:29:02 Christopher Mick: Have a Girls Who Code club starting this Fall here in Hudson, WI.

03:29:38 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Drop your questions in the chat for the q&a section coming up!

03:29:50 Jessica Janusz: I do like the esports are safer since they don't give you concussions etc like football

03:30:05 Tracy Andersen: What does this cost to participate and start a club like this?

03:30:12 Jennifer Fulton: Bed Wars competition. I want in!!!

03:30:23 Jessica Janusz: Same questions Tracy !

03:30:41 Nicole Dainty: Also curious about cost!

03:30:45 Sam Nezzer: Teaching this at school is awesome too because we can try & teach them how to be appropriate online. Next level global compassion & empathy

03:30:47 Vanessa Kelly: We have a Girls Who Code Club and the girls love it! They have drones and robots and different coding programs.

03:31:16 Jessica Janusz: Tracy I found this article
<https://www.techlearning.com/how-to/the-dos-and-donts-of-scholastic-esports-programs>

03:31:26 Dave | PocketLab - SciC: Great questions everyone, thanks!

03:31:33 Nicole Dainty: In addition, wondering about time logistics. How many hours does it take to get it up and running? How often do kids participate?

03:31:55 Steve Isaacs: Chris Aviles!

03:33:06 Carey Hancey: How long is a season?

03:33:55 Tracy Andersen: Are there workshops/zoom workshops that teachers can learn how to set up an esports group in their school??

03:34:15 William Perry: seasons are dependant on the league, normally about 8 weeks or longer

03:34:23 Tracy Andersen: Because I have NO idea where to start...

03:34:29 Melissa Molema: I am watching from South Africa 🇿🇦 So wonderful to watch!

03:34:47 Jennifer Fulton: We are a fully virtual school. I'm also very curious on how to set everything up

03:35:07 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: At the end of the day we will survey all attendees. In the survey will be a question where you get to vote on which sessions you want to see a 60-90 minute version of in the near future!

03:35:41 Oneil Chin: ok

03:36:15 ARTURO MENDEZ:I agree so much with Chris.

03:36:16 Valeria Moreira: nice!~

03:36:28 Carey Hancey: What is the time investment for coaches who do not game but have students that would love this?

03:36:35 ARTURO MENDEZ:That is true... we've observed so too.

03:37:21 Jessica Janusz: Jennifer Fulton Chris has a book on all this and how to do I t

03:37:21 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Tasneem- Rocket League

03:37:35 ARTURO MENDEZ:Just as any coach Carey....

03:37:39 Jennifer Fulton: I just clicked the link :)

03:37:42 ARTURO MENDEZ:I'd say this could be a full time job

03:37:42 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Its the same game the tournament today is playing. You will see that coming up at the next session.

03:37:50 ARTURO MENDEZ:If taken seriously

03:37:52 Jessica Janusz: I don't see though how what you eat or how you sleep affects your video game performance the same way it does a video game performance

03:37:55 William Perry: I help run an esports program in Florida through plays which has free and paid seasons depending on the games you want to play. if anyone is interested in getting a program started I would be happy to answer any questions you might have. you can email me at wperry@maclay.org or reach me on discord Wperry#8599

03:38:21 Carey Hancey: I am in Virginia. Is there a regional contact in Virginia?

03:38:52 ARTURO MENDEZ:Jessica... high performance gaming requires top notch physical, mental, and even attitude conditions.

03:38:56 Jennifer Fulton: I may just take you up on your knowledge William

03:39:04 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: You can find Chris's book here https://read.amazon.com/kp/embed?asin=B08P2JX3DF&preview=newtab&linkCode=kpe&ref\_=cm\_sw\_r\_kb\_dp\_EYT6G2YCY9HYXS7V8SDE

03:39:18 Jennifer Fulton: Agreed Arturo. If you are eating poorly and sleeping poorly it will effect all things you do.

03:39:47 Jessica Janusz: Arturo - but you just use your hands so I don't quite get that. Im not saying you're wrong I just wanna explain to my kids when they ask

03:40:12 Raziel Cázares Rangel: Our students response has been overwhelmingly positive

03:40:16 William Perry: there are regional people with plays in several states. you can find them here <https://www.playvs.com/super-coaches>

03:40:38 Michelle Moulton: @ Jessica reaction times and critical thinking skills

03:40:41 Jennifer Fulton: high level competitive gaming requires split second reaction times

03:40:48 Sarah Cukrowicz: Jessica- lack of sleep reduces their reaction and cognitive function speeds. Poor diet can have similar effects, but it can also cause the shakes, poor impulse control, etc.

03:41:04 Jessica Janusz: Thanks Sara !

03:41:36 Carey Hancey: I am more interested in the curriculum component of esports with the option to compete. I am wondering if it is feasible to integrate esports as part of a research class I teach to middle school students

03:42:20 Jessica Janusz: That just blew my mind.

03:45:50 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Coming up next is the FINALS from the Esports tournament that is happening right now! Stay tuned to see this happen LIVE. This will be followed by Neil deGrasse Tyson and StarTalk!

03:46:25 Jason Patterson: So true!

03:46:36 Jennifer Fulton: This is good SEL skills work

03:46:41 Scott Kiessig - SciC | PocketLab: Danielle/Brandy- set your chat to panelists and attendees

03:46:50 Sonam Tshering: well said Chris

03:46:51 Jason Patterson: We are their only positive role model in many cases

03:46:52 Alicia Barajas: I love what you just said Chris.

03:47:11 Suzie Saledas: LOVE the spotlight check-in!

03:47:22 Carol Brieseman: <http://www.techedupteacher.com/>
What does Chris say to parents who are concerned about esports spawning a whole new generation of problem gamblers

03:47:39 Leah Young-Chung: LOVE IT

03:47:44 Alissa Lai: That does not happen in many classes either. When some students do poorly, they and their parents blame the teacher and the subject instead of asking how they can do better. I find this is more common the last couple years. If we can teach them to self-reflect more, we all benefit.

03:49:51 Jen Massey: YES! The idea that all kids should play physical sports is incredibly ableist.

03:50:36 Jennifer Fulton: We use Prodigy for supplementary math. We have a plan B for students who don't like the gaming aspect. 90% of our kids love it. but for the few who don't we are flexible and differentiate

03:50:38 Brandy Hepler: So true!

03:50:39 Missy Brosius: There are plenty of kids who don't play any traditional/"physical" sports and do things like art club, language club, newspaper, etc - and as someone has already said earlier in the chat, obesity is not simply a "screen time" issue

03:50:46 Jessica Janusz: Wow that's such an epiphany Chris thanks for that

03:50:49 Jennifer Fulton: and yes. Very ableist

03:50:58 Missy Brosius: @ Jen Massey - yes

03:50:59 Jessica Janusz: I've done that to my husband and kids lol

03:53:23 Jen Massey: AMEN!!!

03:53:27 Shirley Farrell: YES!

03:55:01 Sara Hallgren: Agreed darla

03:55:04 Tangela Cooke: ^^

03:55:14 Mariam Nouri: If you play the game "Democracy" you learn so much about the society and why laws and policies sometimes don't work. You learn so much about yourself.
